Beats in Bites is a live action/CG animation series that celebrates the art of beatboxing. It stars beatbox artists Julia Dales and Ammar Abou-Agena. In each episode, Julia and Ammar teach four future beatboxers how to produce sounds using the mouth, lips, tongue and voice. They also mesmerize their young protégés in a music video style performance with a lexicon of sounds ranging from drum beats and clicks and scratches, filtering to freestyle. Beats in Bites also features parrots Sunny & Pepper, who provide comic relief with their fancy beatbox dance moves.
